Making a DVA Compensation Claim

- If you have any Service-Related Injury or Medical Condition, we urge you to make a claim to the Department of Veteran Affairs. It is your right to do so, and just compensation for the period of your youth taken from you by your National Service. Many of our members have received large Compensation payments for deafness, in particular, as we were not provided with adequate hearing protection. Compensation for back, knee and shoulder problems, and osteoarthritis, attributable to the heavy packs, weapons, ammunition we carried, should also be claimed for. Keep reading.....

Making a DVA Compensation Claim

You can pursue a claim with DVA for Compensation and/or Treatment for a Service-Related Condition – either something on your service records or one of the 20 conditions covered by Provisionally Approved Medical Treatment (PAMT) – through three distinct pathways:

- Handle the claim yourself, whether online or through the paper DVA Form D2051. We favour the online route, and the steps for it are shown in this presentation.
- Approach a qualified DVA Advocate at your local RSL Club, or consult the Advocate Search <https://www.advocateregister.org.au/> to see if an advocate is nearby. This is a FREE service and one we recommend if you are unsure about how to claim on your own, or have claim disallowed.
- Turn to one of the several organisations that deliver this service for payment. Their pricing varies – a set fee in some cases, and in others a no-win, no-fee arrangement under which a share of any compensation awarded is retained. For a complex matter, this could prove an option worth considering. No single company carries our endorsement, and some have questionable reputations.

See Next Slide for PAMT Conditions Covered

Treatment for 20 common ailments that you can attribute to your service, but not necessarily on your army medical records, may be available under DVA's Provisional Access to Approved Medical Treatments (PAMT) trial.

Ailments where you may be covered are:

- | | |
|--|---------------------------------|
| • Achilles Tendinopathy and Bursitis | Chondromalacia Patella |
| • Cut, Stab, Abrasion and Laceration | Dislocation |
| • Internal Derangement of the Knee | Fracture |
| • Intervertebral Disc Prolapse | Joint Instability |
| • Labral Tear | Lumbar Spondylosis (Lower Back) |
| • Non-melanotic Malignant Neoplasm of the Skin | Osteoarthritis |
| • Plantar Fasciitis | Rotator Cuff Syndrome |
| • Sensorineural Hearing Loss (Deafness) | Shin Splints |
| • Solar Keratosis (Skin Cancer) | Sprain and Strain |
| • Thoracic Spondylosis (Upper Back) | Tinnitus |
- Subject to authorisation, approval to commence treatment may be granted while your claim is being assessed. This is usually within 7 days of lodging a claim. If your claim is unsuccessful, you do not have to repay any of the costs associated with the treatment received.

How to Apply Online to DVA for Treatment and/or Compensation

- Before you start making an online claim, you must have a written diagnosis from your doctor, a specialist or a registered audiologist, verifying your ailment.
- You need to scan this into a PDF File so it can be uploaded into your claim. If you do not have a scanner, ask the provider to give it to you in digital form. It may be worth taking a USB stick with you to the appointment (available from Office Works).
- Most audiologists will accept your White Card as payment for a hearing test but make sure you ask before you book an appointment. Other health professionals may, or may not but, again it is always worth asking. Keep all receipts. You may be able to claim back out of pocket expenses related to your treatment.

DVA suggests seeking advice from a qualified advocate if you are unsure about any aspect of your claim. You do not need to pay, or give up a portion of your entitlements, for advice from an advocate. Free advice is available from qualified Ex-Service Organisation Advocates. You can learn more about advocates and where to find them at the DVA Website.

Getting started

Qualifying Service

Submit a claim to determine if you have qualifying service.

Initial Liability

Your first step towards treatment and support for a service-related injury or condition.

Read This Page
Carefully

Initial liability is the first step in the claims process. This is where we decide whether your injury or condition is related to your service in the Australian Defence Force. Once we've accepted liability for a condition, you can get compensation, treatment and other support. In some cases, we can cover the cost of your treatment before your claim is finalised. Go to Making a claim for a service-related condition  to find out more.

You can only submit an initial liability claim for one condition at a time. If you have more than one condition, you will need to submit multiple claims.

Go through your Service Medical Records and copy any records of visits to the RPA, hospital etc that relate to your claim. These should be in PDF format for uploading with your claim.

Preparing for this claim

When submitting your initial liability claim, you will need to provide:

- a medical diagnosis of your injury or condition, such as a report from a GP or specialist
- any documents  that help establish your injury or condition is a result of your service
- details of your medical provider.

If you don't have a medical diagnosis, please get one and upload it as soon as you can. This will enable us to progress your claim.

Work your way down this page, ticking as many boxes as you think may be applicable.

The Box at the bottom of this page is important – See Next Slide

In the box below, tell the story as best you can. For deafness, how we had little pieces of cotton wool for hearing protection. For arthritis, how we carried huge packs and marched long distances in inadequate boots. There's plenty of room in the box so tell it in your words.

How did your service cause, aggravate or contribute to your condition?

Telling us about the events that led to your condition will help us assess your claim.

If a classified operation led to your condition, enter 'classified'. Do not provide details about the classified operations.

Tell us how your service caused, aggravated or contributed to your condition.

Upload any other supporting documents you may have and then click SAVE & NEXT

Tick the boxes that are relevant to you. (optional)

Your answers are not used to calculate compensation rates. Telling us how you have been affected by your condition will help us understand which services are right for you.

If your application is disallowed by DVA, the letter advising you of this should also tell you that have a period in which to ask for a review. Do so immediately, and enlist the aid of an approved DVA advocate from your local RSL or search <https://www.advocateregister.org.au/>

What Next?

Keep an eye on your email inbox. You should get an email advising that there is a new Message in your MyGov in box. This should have the full details of your claim and a PAMT Treatment Confirmation Form on the last page. You need to take this to your GP and have him sign it, tick the boxes of the PAMT that apply to you and have his office email a copy to DVA. You keep the original and present it to any provider you would like services from. Ask them if they accept your DVA White Card as payment. Your compensation claim could take up to 2 years, but you can continue to access PAMT until it is settled.
